

No Compromise With Russia, Says Acheson

Legislature Quits At Midnight But Will Stop Clocks

Lansing, May 20 (P)—The legislature arrived at its adjournment deadline today with the state's 1949-50 budget still unwritten and a host of inter-chamber disputes yet to be settled.

The lawmakers must quit by midnight tonight—but that final hour is elastic because traditionally the clock has to be stopped to get all the business completed.

Prospects were for a day of many battles, lasting into the night.

Four of the dozen major appropriation bills already were locked in House-Senate conference committees to iron out disagreements—and it appeared all would end up there before nightfall.

Thus the next fiscal year's budget was still in doubt.

The House was balking consistently at a Senate attempt to give state agencies some leeway in raising employees' pay grades.

In a change of strategy the Senate Finance Committee reported out substantially higher appropriations for Michigan State College and the University of Michigan. Members hinted they expected a fight with the House over the bill but wanted it on the floor for "trading purposes."

The Senate committee recommended a $12,000,000 grant for the University of Michigan compared to its request for $12,500,000 and the House figure of $10,986,000.

For MSC the committee recommended $9,594,000 compared with its request for $10,676,000 and the House figure of $6,934,000.

But progress was reported in settling a dispute over one major bill, the modification of the Bonine-Tripp Labor Law.

A conference committee hoped said today.

Thompson Township Puts On $75 Picnic

Unique Expenses Bared In Lansing Audit

Lansing, May 20 (P)—Officers of Thompson township in Schoolcraft county threw a picnic for their constituents at public expense, an auditor general's report said today.

The audit of the township books was made at the request of the attorney general after residents petitioned for an investigation, charging improper use of tax money. Auditor General Muriel K. Aten said he was turning the audit report over to the attorney general.

The audit said that the township board authorized the expenditure of $75 for week-end, two half-barrels of beer and a dozen cases of pop for a public picnic.

Aten said the audit showed lax record keeping but no improprieties.

The audit, he said, indicated that township officers received more in salaries than were authorized by the board, that disbursements were not supported by proper records, and recommended that better records be kept. It reported that payment of state monies and tax collections had been properly accounted for.

Aten reported the township board also ordered $5 sprays of flowers bought for the funerals of 25-year residents of the township and that public funds were used to pay membership fees in the State Association of Supervisors.

Greek Archbishop, Ex-Regent Is Dead

Athens, May 20 (P)—Archbishop Damaskinos, former regent of Greece, died suddenly today. He was 58.

The Archbishop, who ruled Greece as regent from 1944 to 1946, had been ill with heart trouble for the past several months.

Damaskinos, who was Greek Orthodox primate, took over the reins of troubled Greece after its liberation from the Germans, to serve until a plebiscite was held on the return of the monarchy. When Greece voted for the return of the king, Damaskinos relinquished the position.

Senators Try Again To Slash Spending

Economy Group Weathers 3 Straight Defeats

Washington, May 20 (P)—Economy-talking senators bounced back for another try today after suffering three straight defeats in their drive to cut federal spending.

One undaunted Democratic senator in the economy group proposed by far the deepest cut yet—a 39 per cent slash in the Army Civil Functions bill.

Sponsored by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), the amendment would whack $300,000,000 out of the $751,000,000 Army bill.

Even those backing the economy move most vigorously predicted privately that Douglas' proposal would be scuttled.

One reason they cited is that the bill carries $722,000,000 for development of rivers and harbors and for flood control projects scattered throughout the country. Dozens of senators are plugging for projects in their own states.

In addition to the Douglas amendment, the Senate had before it the now standard proposal sponsored by Republican Senators Ferguson (Mich.) and Bridges (N.H.) to cut the bill by five per cent.

They have offered that one on all three money bills passed by the Senate so far, and each time the idea was rejected.

The third defeat came late yesterday on the $1,465,000,000 agriculture department bill. The measure passed the Senate by a voice vote and went back to the House, which allowed $21,000,000 less.

Mother Who Lost Five Sons To Get $2000 Iowa Bonus

Des Moines, Ia., May 20 (P)—A $2,000 veteran's bonus check is to go to Mrs. Thomas F. Sullivan of Waterloo, Ia., whose five sons went down together when the cruiser Juneau was sunk in the Pacific.

The state bonus board said yesterday Mrs. Sullivan has applied for the $500 beneficiary bonus on George, Francis, Joseph and Madison.

"That undoubtedly will be the largest single bonus paid," a spokesman for the board said. Albert, the youngest Sullivan son, was the only one married. The board said it had been informed his widow would apply for the $500 bonus on him.

The Juneau was sunk Nov. 13, 1942, off Savo Island during the battle of the Solomons.

Women Acquitted Of Reno 'Rolling'

Reno, May 20 (P)—A jury tonight acquitted a woman wrestler and two girl companions of a first degree robbery charge.

The three were charged with beating and robbing Salvatore Manriquez, Sacramento, Calif., cafe owner, of some $1,500 gambling winnings Jan. 29.

The girls calmly accepted the verdict—but their friends cheered. The girls are Johnny Mae Young, 28, the wrestler; Eva Lee McDevitt, 24, a Houston, Tex., bar owner; and Mary Anise Huse, 22, a former barmaid and night club photographer from Monrovia, Ala.

The jury had been asked to decide whether Manriquez was "rolled" or was the victim of his own amorous advances.

Secretary Of State Pledged To Protect Future Of Germany

Plane Leaves For Paris With U. S. Delegation

Washington, May 20 (P)—Secretary of State Acheson leaves for the Paris foreign ministers conference today pledged to a virtual "no compromise" policy in his dealings with Russia on the future of Germany.

In a pre-departure statement he made clear that his primary concern will be not an East-West agreement on Germany made just for the sake of agreeing. Instead he spoke of a determination to protect the economic recovery and political stability of all western Europe in which Germany plays a vital part.

"We shall neglect no real opportunity for increasing the area of solution and tranquility in the world," Acheson declared. "At the same time, we shall not barter away successes achieved (in western Germany and western Europe) for the sake of promises which might again prove to be illusory as they too often have in the past."

In his last rounds of preparation for the Paris meeting, Acheson was confronted with a new problem: What attitude to take before the world on Russia's apparent bid for a settlement of the Greek civil war?

While Tass denied there had been any talks for including the Greek question on the work schedule for Paris, there was an obvious significance to the matter in the whole East-West conflict. Wary caution was the prompt Washington reaction to the Russian proposal.

Backed By Senate Acheson's departure today was set for noon EST. With him in President Truman's big plane, the Independence, he arranged to take Mrs. Acheson, John Foster Dulles, his Republican adviser, and Mrs. Dulles and two assistants, Lucius D. Battle and Robert G. Barnes. The conference will open Monday.

Acheson's statement on his policy approach to the new meeting of the council of foreign ministers was issued here after he had previewed his policies and plans with the Senate Foreign Relations committee. He was said to have re-

Fighter Dorazio Convicted By Jury In Fatal Beating

Philadelphia, May 20 (P)—A jury of 11 women and one man deliberated an hour and 15 minutes yesterday before convicting former heavyweight fighter Gus Dorazio of second degree murder in the fatal beating of a fellow brewery worker.

Assistant District Attorney John C. Kane had told the jurors Dorazio's beating of Albert Blewett, 32, was "an unprovoked attack." Blewett died last Jan. 7, six hours after an alleged fight at a Philadelphia brewery.

Dorazio, who was knocked out by Joe Louis in February, 1941, faces a possible prison sentence of 10 to 20 years.

Canadian Shipping Line To Weed Out Communist Seamen

Detroit, May 20 (P)—The AFL Seafarers' Union announced today that a Canadian shipping line had agreed to remove Communists from its crews.

The reported agreement, with Peterson Steamship Ltd., presumably resolved in part an issue which threatened trouble on Great Lakes ports.

Protesting the presence of "Communists" in the crews of several Canadian lines, the Seafarers Union said it intended to block all American ports to the ships.

Scores of ships and barges have faced an unloading problem as a result.

Textile Union Votes Against Pay Boosts

New York, May 20 (P)—A Textile union official says member locals have been advised not to seek wage increases in contract talks starting Aug. 1.

John Chupka, director of the CIO Textile Workers' Union and Worst Division, said last night the group's policy committee unanimously voted against seeking further pay boosts.

He said the committee's action was not binding, but that union locals usually follow policy recommendations.

The contracts will expire on Feb. 1 or March 15 of 1950. They cover 168 mills with 90,000 employees.

Nation Gets Chill; Winds Do Damage

(By The Associated Press)

Turbulent weather, including thunderstorms, tornadoes and snow in California, swirled across most of the nation today along with unseasonable chill.

Tornado wreckage dotted the map in Oklahoma and Missouri. The death of an 11-day-old baby, Sammie Kay Stewart, was reported in Parma, Mo., when a high wind demolished his home.

At Fisk, Mo., wind unroofed the high school building, and caused other damage estimated at $50,000 to $100,000, but did not injure anyone. Three tornadoes struck in the Bartlesville, Okla., area, but no injuries were reported. Twisters also hit in Kansas and Missouri.

One person was killed and another injured in Ohio windstorms which damaged scores of homes throughout the state. High winds also did extensive damage in Kansas, but without fatalities.

Up to three inches of snow fell in the mountains of Southern California. Most of it melted as it fell, but it marked the 11th consecutive day of precipitation with more showers forecast for today.

In the east temperatures fell sharply as the cold breath of the Canadian air pushed across the country. In New England, where marks of 90 were reported, the mercury fell into the 40's with scattered showers helping douse forest fires in Maine.

In Alaska, air force twin Mustangs bombed a Yukon river ice jam to release water five feet deep in Fort Yukon. A C-47 dropped emergency rations to the villagers. Early morning temperatures 31 at Duluth, Minn., 33 at Traverse City, Mich., 49 at Cleveland, O., and Syracuse, N. Y., 46.

New Clamps Sought On Atomic Security

Money Bill To Include Ban On Communists

Washington, May 20 (P)—Senators moved today to tighten up atomic energy security from two directions.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he will "close any technical gaps" which might permit the atomic energy commission's funds to be spent for the education of Communists.

And Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) said the Senate-House atomic energy committee, which he heads, will meet behind closed doors Monday in an effort to learn how the Argonne National Laboratories in Chicago happened to lose an ounce of uranium-235 last February.

O'Mahoney is chairman of a Senate appropriations subcommittee which is considering a $1,090,000,000 spending bill for the atomic energy commission for the year beginning July 1.

O'Mahoney already has made it plain that the subcommittee is going to write language into the money bill to bar Communists from taking part in the atomic agency's multi-million dollar scientific education program.

The issue has raised a storm in Congress since it was disclosed a few days ago that Communist Hans Freilander had received a fellowship under the program.

The disclosure of the missing uranium—almost all of which has been recovered now—came on the heels of the Freilander flurry, and commission officials have had a busy time explaining both matters to Congress.

BITTEN BY RATTLER

Home, (P)—Mrs. S. L. Thompson, 31, is recovering from a rattlesnake bite she received when pulling a neighbor child, three-year-old Jackie Warner, out of the snake's reach. She was bitten on the left ankle. Physicians said, however, they expected no serious results.

Traffic Rolls Again On Berlin Highways

Berlin, May 20 (P)—Traffic rolled on all roads to Berlin today without Russian interference, although the Soviets still have not answered western protests against their on-again-off-again rules.

Economists of the Russian and western zones got together for more talks in their deadlocked efforts to arrange for a revival of inter-zone trade. But the whole situation still was a merry-go-round of confusion, with nobody really understanding what lies behind the recent Soviet tactics.

The Russians renewed their accusation that the western military governments are trying to "destroy" the Soviet zone's economy,

New Constitution Ratified Today In Western Germany

Eight States Vote "Yes" For Federal Republic

Munich, Germany, May 20 (P)—Western Germany tonight ratified a constitution uniting 11 states outside the Soviet Zone into a federal republic.

Ratification was completed by the Parliamentary action of eight, or two thirds, of the states of the Western Occupation zones.

The eight states voted "yes" by overwhelming margins, with virtually all the opposition coming from the Communists. Bavaria, the big state in the American occupation zone, voted "no," but reserved the right to enter the new government upon ratification by the others.

Only Communists have voted against the charter in the states that ratified the constitution.

Separatist feeling in Bavaria has been strong. Monarchists have suggested that Bavaria have its own king again—the aged Prince Rupprecht, pretender to the throne.

Girl Becomes Man In Sex Operations; Begins A New Life

Yonkers, N. Y., May 20 (P)—An attractive 25-year-old girl has developed into a handsome man after a series of sex-changing operations.

He thinks the change is "swell" and plans to go south to begin a new life with his parents.

"All her life 'Joan Doe' considered herself a girl and wore dresses. After being graduated from high school as a girl, she worked as a woman secretary.

But she discovered she had both sexes when she went to a doctor to be treated for a stomach ailment.

Amazed that she had a choice, the slender, dark-haired, "Joan" said "I'd rather be a man."

The doctor, assisted by two others, started a series of operations two weeks ago.

"Joan," with a boyish 135-pound figure of medium height, became "John." He had his hair trimmed and changed from dresses to trousers.

The story was revealed by the Yonkers Professional Hospital yesterday. Names of the patient and doctor were not disclosed.

Alabama Governor Saves Negro From The Electric Chair

Montgomery, Ala., May 20 (P)—The electric chair no longer holds a threat for a 22-year-old Negro who prepared to occupy it 16 times.

"Thank goodness," exclaimed Samuel Taylor when he was told yesterday that Gov. James E. Folsom had commuted his death sentence to life imprisonment.

"I'm sure proud." Taylor was preparing to march to the electric chair when word of the governor's action was brought to him. Fifteen times before he likewise had made ready to die, but each time was saved from the chair by reprieves or court action.

He was convicted in Mobile in 1946 of raping a 14-year-old white girl.

Folsom gave no reason for sparing the young Negro's life.

Indian Rain Dance Soaks Las Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev., May 20 (P)—This desert resort will think twice about inviting the Jemez Indians again for Hieldorado week.

During the parade last Thursday, the New Mexico tribe did a rain dance ritual, guaranteed to bring rain.

It has rained every day since in this arid city which slogans "Fun in the Sun."

Reds Attack; Shells Smash Into Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, May 20 (P)—Twenty-six fires burned tonight along the Whangpoo on the Pootung side of the river as a result of shelling and demolition.

The flames appeared to range from small villages on the horizon to industrial installations a few hundred feet from the east bank of the river opposite Shanghai's Bund. They extended from Shanghai almost half way to Woosung fortress, where the Whangpoo and Yangtze converge.

Except for this fearsome chain of fires the night was relatively quiet. The Communists did not appear to be pressing their drive toward the river from the east. Very little shellfire was heard and only occasionally some machinegun bursts.

The city seethed with rumors. But what looked like a Nationalist withdrawal last night looked less so tonight.

A garrison communique claimed the Nationalists threw back all new Red efforts to close in from the Pootung area across the Whangpoo. Nevertheless four Red shells fell in Shanghai proper—killing half a dozen Chinese along Rue Lafayette in the old French concession. The area is about a mile from the Whangpoo front.

One foreigner who went to the front said he walked three miles beyond Kaachao and saw no Communists. The Reds are supposed to have attacked that area last night. It is near the Yangtze downstream from Woosung fortress.

Although the famed Bund is closed, the expected evacuation of troops had not developed. The foreigner who visited the front said he saw no large ships loading there.

Langhwa field was still operating.

John L. Lewis May Try To Rejoin AFL

Mine Leader Reported Eyeing Green's Post

Cleveland, May 20 (P)—AFL leaders said today that John L. Lewis is dickering to return to the American Federation of Labor.

If he does, he will face strong opposition to any effort to come into power again in the AFL, these influential men predict.

But one top AFL leader said that Lewis was anxious to come back to the organization "on any terms" now because of the imminence of his own contract showdown with the soft coal industry July 1. Also, any new labor law enacted in the next two months may carry provisions directed squarely at Lewis, the AFL leader thinks.

Lewis took his 600,000 miners out of the AFL in December 1947, after he lost a convention fight in San Francisco to persuade the federation to boycott the Taft-Hartley act. He has done so himself, but other AFL leaders decided to comply with the act where they had to, including the filing of non-Communist affidavits.

Those who say Lewis is making peace overtures think he wants to become head of the AFL on retirement of 75-year-old Green, a former mine worker who has held the post since 1924. Lewis many times has denied any such ambition.

But members of the AFL executive council who previously opposed will to make peace with Lewis say now they will fight any new return to power in the federation for the shaggy-haired mine leader.

Mars Flying Boat Carries 308 Men On California Trip

San Diego, Calif., May 20 (P)—An aircraft carrier more than 300 persons for the first time in history yesterday when the navy's huge Marshall Mars flying boat flew here from Alameda, Calif., with 308 men.

This broke the old record of 269 persons, set by a sister-ship, the Caroline Mars on a San Diego to Alameda flight March 4.

The Marshall Mars carried 301 passengers, all personnel of Air Group 5, Alameda Naval Air Station, who were transferred to the Naval Air Station here. A crew of seven also was aboard the plane.

Commander James G. Lang of Manlyton, Minn., skipper of Air Transport Squadron 2, piloted the giant seaplane. It covered the approximately 500 miles in 2 hours and 54 minutes.

FOUND DEAD IN FIELD

Crowsell, (P)—Nick Pua, 66, St. Clair county farmer, was found dead Thursday in a field in which he had been working.

Sheriff's deputies said Pua probably was killed when thrown off a horse-drawn roller he was driving.

ing. Waiting rooms were piled high with baggage. Every departing plane was jammed with passengers. The Chinese airlines still operating were prepared to close at any minute.

It appeared that Shanghai's time is drawing short. The Bund, Shanghai's waterfront thoroughfare, was banned to civilian traffic. (This would be a military measure to clear the way for military withdrawals on the Whangpoo to the Yangtze).

President Lenient With Foes In Dixie

Georgia Job Breaks Ice For Southern Plums

Washington, May 20 (P)—President Truman today appeared to have broken the ice on southern appointments with his nomination of Abraham Benjamin Conger as federal judge in Georgia.

Conger was recommended by Senator George (D-Ga.), vigorous foe of the president's Civil Rights program and one of the Democrats who has refused to go along with Mr. Truman's request for $4,000,000 in new taxes.

The president's action in sending the nomination to the Senate yesterday was widely interpreted as a victory for those in the Democratic party who have counseled against trying to punish Dixie lawmakers who didn't get out and root for the president in last year's campaign.

The action also made it seem that Mr. Truman wasn't laying down an iron-clad rule when he said recently that those who don't support his program in Congress can't expect a voice in patronage, or job dispensing, matters.

Badger Solon Quits Malmedy Whitewash

Washington, May 20 (P)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today angrily quit the senate group investigating the Malmedy trials and blasted it for "attempting to whitewash a shameful episode in armed forces history."

McCarthy, himself a World War II marine veteran, has constantly been at odds with Senator Baldwin (R-Conn.), chairman of the group looking into the trial of Nazi soldiers charged with massacring American prisoners of war during the battle of the Bulge.

The Wisconsin lawmaker issued two bitter statements—one to the press, another for the senate record—in which he accused Baldwin's armed service subcommittee of "a deliberate attempt to avoid the facts."

"I feel that the investigation has degenerated to such a shameful farce that I can no longer take part therein," he said.

The armed services committee is hearing testimony on charges that American officials had used brutal methods in getting confessions from the German soldiers.

Winter Not Over Yet in California

Los Angeles, May 20 (P)—Southern California's rugged winter isn't over yet, although it's mid-May.

It snowed last night in the San Gabriel and San Bernardino mountains, as much as three inches falling in Big Bear valley (elevation 6750 feet).

A couple of Los Angeles residents even reported seeing white flakes here, but the weather bureau explained that it rarely snows when the temperature is in the sixties.

PEET WALKOUT ENDS

Bay City, Mich., May 20 (P)—A two-day walkout in two plants of the Peet Packing company ended today as the company and Local 196 of the CIO United Packing House Workers agreed on a means of taking a firing grievance to arbitration.

A series of blacktop paving projects were approved by the council. Objections to several other paving proposals will be heard at the next meeting of the council.

The council authorized the manager to enter into preliminary negotiations for the purchase of property needed to protect the approaches to the airport and also authorized the manager to negotiate a lease with Morton E. McGee and Hugh G. Robinson for city owned property on the ore dock project site. The two men proposed to establish a golf driving range in that location.

Other action taken by the council follows:

Approved application of Mirko Skradski for change in his liquor license from Class C to Class B, subject to the approval of the chief of police.

Authorized the return to monthly billing of water charges, effective in June.

Approved agreement with C&NW railroad for use of railroad spur between the city gas plant and city steam plant.

Accepted a report from the city manager on the water problem, to be discussed at a later meeting of the council.

Two Tuberculosis Cases Committed

The commitment of two active tuberculosis cases to Pinescrest sanatorium at Powers will be ordered by Probate Judge William Miller following a hearing held yesterday in probate court on petition of district health department officials.

The two persons, man and wife, left the sanatorium against the advice of Dr. John W. Towney, Pinescrest superintendent. State law requires the isolation of active tuberculosis cases for the protection of public health.

WATER FILTER PLANT URGED

Only Practical Solution To City Problem

A recommendation that the City of Escanaba construct a water filtration plant as a solution to its water problem was presented to the Escanaba city council Thursday in a written report submitted by City Manager A. V. Aronson.

The report reviewed all of the studies made by the city in an effort to seek an inexpensive method of providing an adequate and reliable source of supply, and concluded that a water filtration system is the only plan that guarantees both quality and quantity of water for the city's needs.

The city manager estimated the cost of constructing a new water filtration plant of 4,000,000 gallons per day capacity at $120,000. Financed at 2 1/2% for a period of 25 years, the total cost would be $532,000. In addition an annual increase in operation costs of $22,600 would be required.

The Ranney collector system was rejected by the manager in his report to the council because of the existence of too many unknown factors. The report indicated that if the most favorable conditions resulted, the city would save considerable in both construction and maintenance costs by the Ranney method but that if unfavorable conditions developed, such as insufficient volume of water containing a high iron or hardness content, the Ranney collector would not completely solve the problem and additional expenditures would still be required.

A third method, extension of the deep wells, also was considered in the city's study, the manager reported, but deep wells were rejected as a solution because of the unpopularity of hard water. A softening plant at each well would be impractical and too expensive, Aronson reported.

Surviving are one son, Helmer of Rockford, Ill.; three daughters, Mrs. George (Anna) Sievert, Appleton; Mrs. James (Ruth) Burr, Eureka, Calif.; and Mrs. Carl (Elaine) Lindbeck, Iron River; nine grandchildren, eight great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

The body will be brought to Escanaba Saturday and will be taken to the Anderson funeral home. Services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the funeral home chapel with Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

City Steam Plant Is Lively Subject Again At Council Meeting

The city steam plant controversy flared anew at the regular meeting of the city council Thursday evening at the city hall. The occasion was the public hearing on the proposed city budget for the 1949-50 fiscal year, which ultimately was adopted by the council without a dissenting vote.

George Gaffney, who has spoken against the steam plant at previous council meetings, questioned the legality of steam plant expenditures. He declared that the city charter makes no provision for operating a city steam utility and said also that if the steam plant is a utility, the expenditures are illegal because the charter restricts utility expenditures to funds contained in a depreciation reserve account.

Gaffney declared that a budget provision of only 1/2 of one percent interest on the city steam plant investment is a ridiculous figure, entirely inconsistent with interest rates exacted for other city-owned utilities.

City Manager A. V. Aronson replied that the city does not recognize the steam plant as a utility until such time as the plant is fully completed. He defended the steam plant project as providing valuable service to the community.

Aronson said the steam plant has resulted in a material reduction in ash pickup, provides economies to the city gas plant which utilizes steam from the city steam plant and fuels eight city-owned buildings. The city manager said that if the steam plant were abandoned, it would require an investment of $75,000 to $100,000 to replace boilers in all of the city buildings now connected to the steam mains.

Aronson declared that the steam plant also has resulted in considerable smoke abatement in Escanaba. It has replaced 90 smoke stacks in the city, he said.

In reply, Gaffney read a prepared statement in which he declared the steam plant as a luxury that the city cannot afford. He asked that the steam project be submitted to the people in general referendum and recommended that funds now being allocated to the steam project be utilized to provide sanitary facilities for local residents not now served by sewer and water connections. In conclusion, Gaffney asked that consideration be given to the salvaging of equipment in the steam plant for use in the new water plant that will be built.

Manager Defends Plant

Gaffney charged that the steam plant was "ill-conceived, ill-planned and carried out."

City Manager Aronson replied that the steam plant will operate successfully. He estimated a potential loss of $8,650 in the operation of the plant in the 1949-50 fiscal year but emphasized that none of this will be an "out of pocket" loss to the taxpayers of the city. This deficit will be counter balanced by payment of taxes and a small allowance for interest on the investment. The deficit will represent entirely the depreciation allowance, Aronson said.

In succeeding years when the plant is completed and a turbine-generator is installed, plus other economies being planned, the plant will show a profit, the manager predicted.

Lency Clairmont also questioned several items in the steam plant budget, but indicated that he was merely seeking information and was not attacking the steam plant project. Clairmont suggested that rates be raised to erase the potential deficit.

Gaffney asked the city manager whether a local citizen who had threatened a lawsuit against the city had received a substantial rebate of his utility payments in exchange for an agreement to dismiss his suit. Gaffney did not mention the name of the individual he had in mind.

Aronson replied that it was unnecessary to omit names. He said that Pat Hayes, proprietor of the House of Ludington, complained to the city about his electric bill which was running about $600 per month. Hayes paid the bill each month under protest. An investigation by city officials disclosed that electric water heaters at the hotel were not receiving the benefit of the one cent per kilowatt off peak rate.

This situation resulted in an overcharge of about $70 per month in the hotel's electric bill. Aronson said, and that at the recommendation of the city attorney, the city refunded the overcharge for a period of slightly more than three months, dating back to the time of the protest January 17.

PROF. WESTON EXPLAINS BOP

It's Big Contribution To Modern Culture

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York — A great cultural contribution to our time has been furnished by Prof. Paul Weston of Capital Records. Professor Weston has just explained BOP so that you and I may understand it. A "Bop-tionary," or glossary of the Bopster's terminology, is also included.

This is really the second great cultural contribution that capital has supplied in the last six months. The other was an album of records in which no melody was played—only background arrangements. This was to provide musical accompaniment for people who practice the cornet at home, and also to encourage kitchen singing on Saturday night.

Bop, as I understand it, is a kind of musical outrage for which some people profess a fondness. It is played by people who wear goatees and berets. Its language has been compared to that spoken by the Cro-Magnon man, obviously the mental equal of the modern Bopster.

Professor Weston says that "the Bopper has his ee, ee, oo, oo, aa, aa sounds; you'll never find him using the vowels 'i' or 'o', for some unexplainable reason."

The reason is not unexplainable at all; the Bopper has not yet climbed sufficiently high on the evolutionary tree to be able to form the other letters. Give him another few thousand years, and then watch him go.

Popularized by Gillespie

Bop, or Be-Bop, was first popularized by one Dizzy Gillespie. I believe, who explained that he played right along, went "Be-Pop," and then started all over again. His art form has built into something of a national epidemic.

Prof. Weston tells us that the basic element of Bop harmony is "The Flatted Fifth," which means that the fifth note from the root of the chord is dropped a half-tone. "This," he says, "provides the same effect as spelling 'catch' with a fifth letter not as far from the beginning of the alphabet, or spelling it 'catcg'."

Thank you, professor. That clears everything up.

One need not be able to understand Bop to enjoy it, I am informed, but for fuller appreciation of this exotic adventure in music a knowledge of a few technical terms is helpful. In Bop, "geets" means money. "Lu Cu Pa" means goodnight. "Dil Ya Bla" means to make a phone call. "Mop Shi Lu" is to be disappointed, and "Oop Pa Pa Da" means hello.

A musician is a "wig," and if he's cool, he's groovy, which means he's lop pow, or okay. If one is bugged, he is annoyed. He could be annoyed by a zoo, or sad-looking chirk, or a turkey, or square, or a clown, or non-hip Bopper. Any of the above may be defined as a drag, or just plain awful.

"Gotta Feel It"

Professor Weston quotes a Bopper on Bop: "You'll know Bop when you hear it, 'cause everything is c-o-o-l . . . Each man's a great wig and when he starts cutting none of the greatest is Mop Shi Lu. It's music that goes ee oo and ah ah ah, like that. You can't explain it—you gotta feel it."

In the interest of science, I have recently exposed myself to Bop, in order to feel it, and must report that it feels draggy. It bugs me. It Mop Shi Lu me. I think it's awful, and if that makes me a turkey, or clown, fine. I don't big-eye it, at all.

One rather prominent jazz musician, who has just converted his band to Bop in the interests of commerciality, confided that he didn't like it either, but he had to play those noises to eat.

"I got a theory about Bop," he said. "I think everybody is going nuts unless they let off some steam, and Bop is the steam. You know how they tie a chain to big trucks, so that the static can escape and ground out to the road, instead of building up and blowing up the truck?

NELSON JOINS DETROIT BANK

Former Escanaban Was Bank Commissioner

Appointment of E. W. Nelson, former state banking commissioner, as vice president of the Wa-beek State Bank of Detroit has been announced.

Born in Escanaba and a graduate of the University of Michigan, he was associated with the State Bank of Escanaba in the early years of his banking career. Nelson held the state banking commissioner's position from 1943 to 1948. He had served in the state banking department for 18 years as bank examiner and deputy commissioner under four regimes.

To vary Waldorf salad to be served as the main course for luncheon, add pieces of crumbled crisp bacon to the apple, celery, walnut, and mayonnaise mixture; serve the salad on a bed of salad greens and dust with paprika.

Good Soil And Sun Needed For Peonies

Peonies are one of the finest of early summer flowers. They are well adapted to Michigan conditions. Nevertheless, in many Michigan gardens peonies grow but never bloom.

Peonies grown in too dense shade will tend to produce blind growth. They must have sun at least part of the day. Another cause for poor development of buds is the lack of soil nutrients. A good fertilizer program consists of one-half pound to one pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 square feet applied the middle of May and one-half pounds to two pounds of a 4-16-4 fertilizer per 100 square feet worked in just after flowering.

Perhaps the most common cause of peony bud blasting is a disease called botrytis. This disease lives over in the soil, attacking plants during warm, moist periods. It causes a browning and subsequent death of young buds. It can be controlled by spraying or dusting with 2-2-50 bordeaux or fixed coppers, starting as growth begins and continuing at ten-day to two-week intervals. Wider spacing of plants is also helpful.

Deep planting is another of the chief causes for the production of poor roots and no flowers. In planting, cover the eyes or buds with about two inches of soil. Do not plant too deeply.

Nationwide Resumes Daily Service

NATIONWIDE AIRLINES, Inc., which does not possess a Civil Aeronautics board franchise for air service between Detroit and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, has announced resumption of daily passenger and freight service, including an extra non-stop flight each week during the summer between Escanaba and Detroit.

Wisconsin Central Airlines, which does possess a CAB franchise to serve Escanaba and other Upper Peninsula points on a route to Minneapolis and Chicago, is still delaying extension of its route to the peninsula and apparently will continue to do so all summer.

The delaying tactics of Wisconsin Central—and insistence that Upper Peninsula folks dig deeply into their jeans to buy stock in the airline before air service is started here—contrasts sharply with the policy pursued by Nationwide Airlines. Wisconsin Central can recover plenty of shekels from Uncle Sam through the air mail subsidy. Nationwide has no airmail contract. It has pioneered air transport service to the Upper Peninsula, provided excellent service and has never insisted on or, for that matter, even requested financial assistance from the area it serves.

Escanaba's ambitious airport extension and improvement program will be completed in a few weeks at a considerable cost to the city, as well as the state and federal governments. The job was hurried so that Wisconsin Central could inaugurate its service as early as possible. Now it appears that Wisconsin Central will not exercise its franchise this year.

In view of the circumstances, it is not surprising that the Upper Peninsula feels a deep sense of gratitude to Nationwide Airlines.

Manufacturers Are Cutting Costs

SALES resistance to high priced appliances has resulted in elimination of frills and doodads by manufacturers. As a result appliance companies are in a dither to outdo each other in finding new economies to slash appliance prices.

Manufacturers are not overlooking any chance that might result in savings of even a few pennies in manufacturing costs. Such savings are tripled at the retail level.

Naturally, this is welcome news to the general public. It means that a flood of lower priced household commodities will be reaching the market in the months ahead. The units will lack the trimmings and extras of first postwar models but they will perform with equal efficiency.

Manufacturers are finding substantial savings in new engineering methods which pass on economies to the customers without any change at all in the finished product. This is the dividend of competition which fulfills the adage that necessity is the mother of invention. When consumer resistance was nil, manufacturers could sell almost anything they produced. Now that the customers are shopping around for the best "buys," manufacturers are forced to meet this demand for lower prices. They can do so only by finding new ways and means of cutting manufacturing costs without impairing the quality of the product.

It is gratifying to know that the day has returned when "the customer is always right."

You Better Check Your Fire Insurance

FIRE insurance companies warn that they are tightening up on loss settlements. This makes it important for property owners to get out their policies, read the fine type, and discover how bad a beating they will take in case of fire.

Myron L. Matthews, vice-president of the Dow Service, warns that "probably few" policyholders understand the terms of the contract between them and the company. The great rise in property values, and the companies' warning that they are going to begin enforcing what are known as "co-insurance" clauses, makes it high time to see if you are one of the vast majority that does not know where it stands.

Policies differ, but the typical co-insurance clause is an "80%" provision. If yours is that, and you can't quite figure out the lawyers' fine print, it probably means about this:

"We won't pay more than our share of the actual fire loss, no matter how much insurance you have paid us for." If you have paid for $15,000 worth of insurance on a $12,000 house, with an 80% clause, you could collect only $9,600 if the house burned to the ground.

"We (the company) and you (the owner) are splitting the risk. If your insurance is for as much as 80% of the property's actual value, and it is completely destroyed, we will pay 80% of its value, and you must stand the rest of the loss, as co-insurer. If the house is not completely destroyed, we will pay the full value of your loss up to the face amount of the policy.

"But if the policy is for less than 80% of the present value of the property, and it is less than completely destroyed, we will pay only our share of the actual loss."

It works like this. Your house has a present value of $10,000 after depreciation. You should have it insured for $8,000. If the house is completely destroyed, the company pays $8,000. And if fire does $8,000 damage, you still collect the full $8,000 for which you have been paying.

But suppose the $10,000 house you bought before the war is now worth $20,000 after depreciation. You have raised your insurance coverage only to $12,000. You are insured for only 60% of the house's real value—for only 75% of what the "60% co-insurance clause" says you ought to be carrying.

If the house burns to the ground, you can collect the full $12,000 for which you paid. Maybe you feel you can stand the $4,000 loss you needn't have taken, on top of the $4,000 loss you couldn't avoid as co-insurer.

But most fires do not completely destroy buildings. They damage them, more or less. Suppose your house sustains $8,000 worth of damage. If you were insured for $16,000—which is 80% of the house's value—you could collect the full $8,000 loss. Because you are under-insured, you can collect only 75% of your actual loss, though you have paid for half again enough insurance to cover the whole business.

We do not attempt to justify the philosophy behind this type of policy. Much less do we condone the confusing legal verbiage that conceals the actual meaning of the 80% clause from the average property owner.

But like it or not, that is the most common type of fire insurance policy. Probably a majority of property owners are even more dangerously under-insured, because of the real estate boom and this type of contract, than they realize. If the companies now are going to enforce such provisions more rigidly, it is the part of wisdom to find out what would happen to your biggest investment if fire should strike.

The Gift Of Freedom

THE United States government is publishing at Washington a 150-page illustrated book, "The Gift of Freedom," whose purpose is to show foreign workers the forces that have made America great, and the elements that make up the American workers' high standard of living.

The book was prepared by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor. American union labor representatives abroad are co-operating in its translation and distribution in European countries.

Reading the publication, which is printed on slick paper, the foreign worker may draw his own conclusions about what can be done under conditions of freedom and democracy. It is America's story alone, and direct comparisons with the economies of other countries are avoided.

Chapters of the book describe in detail the economic basis for workers' living standards; what their wages will buy in terms of an hour's work; their standards of living; working conditions and labor legislation; the history, development and influence of the labor movement; and the American historical basis for personal and political freedom.

The book agrees that our system is not perfect, but it contends also that our mistakes do not halt our progress or change our direction. There is nothing else like America—and Canada—in all the world, and the figures give ample proof of this.

Just how successful efforts will be to get translations of the book through the iron curtain, no one knows, but it should filter in eventually, thoroughly giving the lie to the wild statements on which the Soviet rulers feed their people. The truth about America is all that is needed to show up the campaign of falsity which the rank and file of the Russian people have had to swallow for years.

DOCTORS MUST PROVE IT NOW

(Toledo Blade)

Whether compulsory medical insurance is desirable or not, whether it constitutes socialized medicine or not, the fact of the matter is that this country is not in a position to put it into effective operation at this time. Our shortage of doctors, nurses and hospitals must be overcome with federal aid before the balance of the president's national health program can be seriously considered.

This means that the medical profession, the AMA, will still have a chance to prove its claim that American doctors under the private practice system can give the American people the best medical care in the world. But the proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof.

It will be up to the medical profession, the AMA, to show that voluntary insurance plans, group medical practice where feasible, and the development of clinics actually do provide better medical care for more people at lower costs.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

HERE ARE NEW WORDS FOR YOUR VOCABULARY

South Bend: On a recent program of our Civil Music association, an orchestral number was listed as a "gymnopedie." I've searched the dictionaries and asked musicians, but can find no explanation of the strange word. Will you please Colbyize it for my readers and me?—G. O. T.

A. Gymnopedie is French. It is spelled with an acute accent (accent aigu) over the first "e." The word is formed from the Greek gymnos, "naked, bare," plus pedis, "foot." This word is so new that it does not appear in English and French dictionaries, at least not in the dictionaries of my library. But here is the proper definition: Gymnopedie is a noun that designates a musical number to be played for barefoot dancers.

Europe Awaits Tourist Rush

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Already the first wave of tourists is leaving American ports for Europe in what promises to swell into a record flood of travel with the first weeks of summer.

Childs

The department of commerce estimates that from 250,000 to 300,000 Americans will visit Europe this year. The estimate of the European countries receiving aid from America is 375,000 American visitors. These countries are naturally hoping for as many tourist dollars as possible, since those dollars will help to get trade and money balances back nearer to the pre-war normal. It is believed here that the ECA estimate is too high.

The volume of European travel promises to exceed anything seen before. But the amount of money spent is not likely to equal the total for 1929, the year of the big boom.

In the 20 years since thirsty Americans sailed from a prohibition-ridden America a great deal has happened. In this year's tourist crop I think there will be many more thoughtful travelers, particularly among the young, who are going abroad with a desire to know the ways of other lands and other peoples.

CHOIR GOING TO NORWAY

Some are going with a specific and serious purpose. Groups of midwestern farmers and farm wives have been going to Europe for the first time to learn at first-hand what ECA is all about.

One of the most interesting projects is that of the a cappella choir of Concordia college, Moorhead, Minn. The 59 young people in the choir, with their director, Paul J. Christiansen, will go to Norway where they are to give 31 free concerts in 35 days.

They come from farms and towns in Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Wisconsin. Most of them are grandsons and granddaughters of the hardy Norwegian immigrants who pioneered in the west.

Just now they are singing their way from Moorhead to New York in a series of concerts intended to help pay the cost of the trip. But each choir member is paying half of his or her own fare.

This seems to me to be a thrilling and wonderful thing to do. Every Norwegian audience that hears these young people sing will learn a great many new things about America.

That kind of meeting and exchange means more than an infinity of words over a propaganda radio. It is how peoples really come to understand each other. If only there were more of this kind of cultural give-and-take instead of just a few hopeful examples!

The fact is, of course, that the field of ordinary commercial travel is wide open for some enterprises with imagination and a little courage. Department of commerce studies indicate that a great many more Americans would travel to Europe if the price weren't quite so high.

STEAMSHIP RATES HIGHER

Lowest steamship rates today are from $350 to $400 a round trip for tourist or third-class accommodations. This is higher than before the war.

The cheaper accommodations are booked to capacity long in advance of de luxe staterooms. With tourist and cabin fares at $150 to $200 one way, with a discount for the round trip, many more low and middle-income families would take their first trip abroad.

Air rates offer little or no competition, the round trip air rate, New York to London, being $630. When the airlines put in a 30 day off-season excursion rate of $466, they got a marked pickup in business. Perhaps the kind of coach fares that a few lines have put into effect in this country would tap a new European travel market.

Today most Americans—at least four-fifths of all industrial workers and 97 per cent of all white-collar workers—get vacations with pay. This is a far greater number than before the war. In travel, both at home and abroad, enterprise and initiative have an exciting field in which opportunity would seem to be unlimited.

The French pronunciation is: zheem-naw-pay-DEE. It seems likely, however, that when the word becomes better known the pronunciation will be modified so as to conform with English phonetics—possibly JIM-noe-PEE-dee. But that, of course, is speculation on my part.

Perhaps the best known compositions are Gymnopedie No. 1 and Gymnopedie No. 2 by Erik Satie. RCA Victor lists recordings of the numbers by Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra and by Serge Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Here is a paste-in item for your dictionaries:

Gymnopedie, noun (from gymnos, "naked, bare," plus pedis "foot"): A musical number for barefoot dancers; a ballet dance performed with the feet bare. Pronunciation, French: zheem-naw-pay-DEE.

Milwaukee: The word "decoupage" has appeared in several recent magazine articles. It appears to mean "to cut out and paste on." Will you please discuss it?—H. B.

A. The word is not yet in our English dictionaries. Decoupage is French for "artistic cutting or pinkings." For example, the cutting of flowers or other designs from a piece of figured cloth, and using the cut designs to applique another piece of material, may be called decoupage. The French pronunciation is: day-koo-PAZH.

Apparently this loan word is too new to have an established English pronunciation. But by analogy with other -age words borrowed from the French (garage, corsage, etc.), I'd say the day-koo-PAZH would be the logical English pronunciation. At any rate, I'd strongly advise against such a pronunciation as "dee-KOOP-idge."

Whence All But Him Had Fled

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

SAVE THE FORESTS—It has become an all too common practice to recall the days of the early-day lumbermen with denunciation of the "lumber barons" as undesirable characters. They were "robbers," "destroyers of our forests," and men without a "social conscience."

So goes the opinion of many people today. Yet in their day these men were recognized as leaders, upright citizens, and employers generally admired and respected by their workers.

The truth is somewhere in between. The big lumbermen were neither robbers nor humanitarians. They were neither black villains nor white saints. What they did was of their time, and they can no more be judged by today's standards than our actions today can be judged by the standards of fifty years from now.

Amazing as it may seem lumbermen of the Upper Peninsula were the first to organize an adequate forest protection service and to finance it.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES—Lumbering began in the Upper Peninsula as early as 1830 along the Escanaba river. But it did not reach full-scale proportions until the 1880-1890's, so far as the pineries were concerned. Thereafter the logging business declined in volume, yet it continued vitally important to the economy of the Upper Peninsula, with expanding utilization of hitherto ignored tree species.

In earlier day forest fires raged over millions of acres, destroying what would now be considered fortunes in natural resources—both in trees and soil. Something had to be done, for Public Domain Commission's fire organization in the Upper Peninsula was inadequate. It maintained one fire warden for every three counties in the U. P., one man with approximately 1,500,000 acres to protect. And this man was equipped with one shovel, one axe, and a collapsible canvas pail.

CALL FOR HELP—Land and timber owners in the Upper Peninsula, meeting Nov. 5, 1910, in Marquette, agreed to the need for an adequate forest fire fighting organization. Two years before more than 2,000,000 Upper Peninsula acres had been scorched by fire.

The Northern Forest Protective association was organized, with T. A. Green of Ontonagon as its first president, and T. B. Wyman of Munising as its secretary. The association members were assessed one and one-eighth cents per acre of land owned to help finance the fire fighting organization. Many townships assisted financially by paying part of the expense of the warden's work in their townships.

WIDESPREAD—By the summer of 1911 the association had 19 wardens patrolling the forest areas of the Upper Peninsula, covering every county with exception of Mackinac and Chippewa.

"They were charged with the duty of contacting each lumberman and farmer in their area and securing cooperation in the matter of careful burning and watch-fire. They used various means of transportation and they were required to reach every point often and by the most serviceable method. Some walked, some used train service, saddle and driving horses, rail bicycles, rail velocipedes; even autos may have been used on a few occasions."

YEARS AHEAD—In efforts to obtain the cooperation of the public in protecting forests from fire, the association adopted many methods that have since been copied and called "modern."

Signs were posted, calling upon the people to practice care with fire in the woods. Pictures and slogans were used to spread the message of the safety. One hundred and fifty "forest fire slides" were made up and shown in the 25 theaters in the Upper Peninsula.

New ideas were being sought to bring the necessity of fire prevention to the attention of the lumbermen, farmers and cameras. Specially designed playing cards, with prevent forest fire slogans on their backs, were distributed wherever men worked or relaxed. These cards provided a reminder that a woodman's job depended upon the forests, and that a fire could bring unemployment.

THEN THE STATE—At the recent public sale of state-owned land in Escanaba, one of the conservation department's lands division men here for the sale was C. H. Slater, a land examiner. He was one of the original fire wardens of 1916. Frank Kreig, presently living north of Marquette, was another.

The Northern Forest Protective association remained intact until 1921, and in 1925 the state conservation department took over the task of forest fire protection. From 1925 to 1948 state records show that for that 23-year period a total of 2,266,755 acres burned over—less than for the one year of 1908 before the Forest Protective association was organized.

Too Dangerous

Dear Editor,

Who sold the city schools the jungle contraptions that are causing our kids to get hurt when they should be safe at school? If the teachers ain't around to see that the kids don't stand on their heads on the top bar I say take them off from the school grounds. What good are they anyway? PTA Father.

Sink Or Swim

Dear Editor:

The heavy rain that hit Escanaba Wednesday afternoon showed how inadequate our facilities are for draining off storm water from city streets.

The rain was much heavier than average, true enough, but most any rain that is heavier than a good mist brings the same results. I don't know the answer to the problem but it sure seems that something could be done to correct this mess.

How about it? Wet Feet.

Don't Rock the Boat

Dear Editor:

The fishing season is here and it's time to remind fishermen: Don't rock the boat. Last summer I saw dozens of men and women—kids, too—standing up in rowboats and it's a mystery to me why there weren't more drownings. Any good fisherman knows that it's foolhardy to stand in a rowboat, or to be shifting your weight from side to side. A sudden wave will topple you into the water and perhaps your fishing pals, too.

Fishing on Bay de Noc is like driving an automobile. If you don't use common sense, you're asking for trouble, brother. A Fisherman.

So They Say

No state has the sovereign right claimed by Hitler's Third Reich to declare war on freedom and religion. State sovereignty does not mean state tyranny. In fields of thought and religion where men cannot agree, freedom is the only alternative to tyranny—Benjamin V. Cohen, U. S. delegate to the UN.

Our entire military organization is based on effectiveness, efficiency and economy, and there has been too little emphasis on the latter.—Gen. Jimmy Doolittle.

Democracy is the most exacting and difficult of all forms of government, because its success depends, not on servile obedience of the many to the few, but on the active participation of the citizens in government, and the readiness to take responsibility.—British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

The great problem which humanity is always trying to solve is how to protect itself against aggression. The spirit of aggression is, unfortunately, not yet dead.—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

The only way to avoid it (a tax increase) is to cut expenses—all expenses.—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Hottest backfire the real estate lobby has suffered in its battle against public housing didn't get into the newspapers. It occurred at a private dinner in Washington in honor of Sir Harold Bellman, British housing tycoon.

The dinner was given by Mrs. Frances Freed, widow of the late Allie S. Freed, a big construction tycoon who built the Buckingham apartments across the Potomac in Virginia. At the dinner were Edward Carr, ex-head of the National Association of Home Builders; Oscar Kruetz, president of the National Savings and Loan League; and Morton Bodfish of the U. S. Savings and Loan League, the latter indicted for violation of the lobbying act.

Sir Harold is chairman of the Abbey National Building Society—British equivalent of the Savings and Loan League—so his American friends were all set for an evening of oratorical fireworks against public housing on both sides of the Atlantic. The British financier got a big hand when he blasted at "stringent government controls" on private housing construction in his country. Suddenly, however, the applause died like a busted light bulb.

Figuring he would also blast public housing in England, and thus provide ammunition they could use against the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing program, the dinner guests began asking about the dangers of "socialized housing" in America.

"I can't agree to that," replied Sir Harold. "Of course, I would rather not comment on your American program for public housing, because I do not feel it proper to do so. But I can tell you that the British program has worked out satisfactorily. In fact, as I see it, it's the only way to provide adequate housing for low-income groups."

GOP MOLE INSTEAD OF ELEPHANT—Minnesota's jack-in-the-box Senator Hubert Humphrey has come up with a new symbol for the GOP in place of the traditional elephant. At a Democratic banquet in Pittsburgh, Humphrey suggested that be the new symbol for the Republican party be the mole.

"The mole," Humphrey explained, "only sees in the darkness and is blinded by the sunlight."

"That is typical of the Republicans," explained the senator from Minnesota. "They are just discovering the yesterdays today, and are unwilling to recognize that there will be any tomorrows."

LOU GEHRIG'S WIDOW

Mrs. Lou Gehrig made a big hit with the senate subcommittee on health when she testified for legislation to combat multiple sclerosis, the dread disease that felled her baseball-playing husband at the peak of his career.

However, one sidelight of the hearing didn't get in the newspapers. It occurred when Committee Clerk Bill Reidy passed her a note that caused Mrs. Gehrig to reach for her handkerchief. The note read:

"Dear Mrs. Gehrig—You don't know me, but I used to play ball on the sandlots of New York with Lou. When he was playing ball for Columbia university and later when he was a great star with the Yankees, he frequently came down to 16th street in Harlem to teach me and other kids the fine points of the game."

"That was a mighty tough neighborhood, but the gang fights always stopped when Lou showed up. He did a lot to stop delinquency and many of those tough kids who went on to amount to something will always be grateful to him."

The note was signed: "Bill Reidy."

ARMIS FOR KOREA

COMMUNISTS IN PHILIPPINES

General MacArthur has urgently requested that a big shipment of American arms and supplies be sent to South Korea immediately to build up the anti-Communist government of President Syngman Rhee. MacArthur has passed on the word that the Communist government of North Korea is getting tremendous arms shipments from Russia and its army, which has Russian officers, may try to take Southern Korea by force. MacArthur recommends that enough rifles, machine guns and artillery be sent to arm a South Korean army of 100,000 men.

COMMUNISTS IN PHILIPPINES

A secret army mission has just returned from the Philippines with a recommendation that the United States arm and equip a Filipino army of 100,000 men immediately. The mission, headed by Maj. Gen. Albert Jones, strongly urges that the U. S. army build up the Filipino army to help it fight off the attacks of the Communist guerrillas who are getting more and more recruits each day.

U. S. SHUNS HONG KONG

Great Britain has invited the U. S. navy to use Hong Kong as a base in the Far East, but the navy has said "No." Inside reason is that the American embassy in Nanking has warned that the Chinese Communists are determined to drive the British out of Hong Kong, even at the risk of war, and the U. S. navy doesn't want to get mixed up in it.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

RAINSTORM IN ESCANABA—Almost two inches of rain fell in Escanaba's big rainstorm Wednesday afternoon. Many basements were flooded, making extra work for grownups. But it was fun for the youngsters. In the bottom picture, Charles Stratton is shown riding his bike through a big puddle on Ludington street. The two top scenes were photographed at the intersection of Eighth avenue south and South 13th street, where the water went over the top of the curbs. Driver of the car was Frank Hirm, 1115 Fifth avenue south.

No Child Hopelessly Feeble-Minded, Claim

By MARGARETTA CLARK
NEA Special Correspondent

University, Miss., (NEA)—Dr. Bernardine Schmidt insists that there is no such thing as an incurable "feeble-minded" child. She is proceeding to prove her point at her clinic for backward children at the University of Mississippi, perhaps the only one of its kind in the world.

To the clinic each week come 12 children, some so "hopeless" that they cannot walk or talk. Because of the limited number of appointments she and her assistants can handle, and because the demand for admittance from all over the world is so great, Dr. Schmidt's clinic has a three-month backlog.

The 12 youngsters are given many tests, in a friendly way that relaxes them. They are tested for sight and hearing, since such mechanical difficulties are frequently confused with low mentality. They are tested for their ability to get along with other children. They are tested for muscular coordination, for aptitude, for intelligence.

From the data collected, Dr. Schmidt maps out a program of training at home and at school for parents and teachers. Before coming to Mississippi, Dr. Schmidt taught special classes of problem children in Chicago. It was during that stretch that she concluded that every child—even those born with the condition known as Mongoloid—has a chance to lead a normal life.

One of her star pupils was a Mongoloid, with the typical Oriental appearance and broad head. "He was 12 years old when his mother brought him to me," she says. "He had so little coordination that he could hardly stand and could say only two words: 'cup' and 'saucer.' I remember how proud his mother was because it had taken her only five years to teach him to say 'saucer.' He was seven before he could say 'cup.'"

The last time Dr. Schmidt saw him, he was in his early twenties. At that time he was a traveling stock clerk for a Chicago firm and was supporting his family with his earnings. He drove a truck in making deliveries and kept account books. He had also become normal in appearance.

Of the 254 children she taught in Chicago, 91.8 per cent advanced out of the feeble-minded class, and almost 60 per cent became "normal" in intelligence. Over one-quarter finished high school, and well over three-quarters had jobs.

Dr. Schmidt, a slight, 32-year-old woman who graduated from Chicago Teachers College when she was 15 and opened a school for backward children because she was too young to get a regular teaching job, is particularly incensed at some psychologists who give up.

She points out that they will announce, after giving a child a test, that his I. Q. is so low that he is "hopelessly feeble-minded." An I. Q. rating can change, she says, like a temperature reading. Just because a person had a fever of 102 is no proof that he'll have that temperature forever, and an I. Q. of 30 can also change with proper care.

"We haven't had any cases that were hopeless," she says. "We never say any case is hopeless. We just start in with the person and work."

Even children with physical abnormalities that ordinarily brand them as feeble-minded for life are not without hope.

"We have just assumed on the basis of physical appearance that these types were congenital morons and made no attempt to teach them anything," Dr. Schmidt says. Those with damaged brains can be corrected, with another portion of the brain taught to take over the duties of the damaged section.

In the Special Education Clinic here, no attempt is made to teach or train the children and grown-ups brought to it.

The work is confined to diagnosis—tests for hearing and sight, muscular coordination, aptitudes, social adjustment and intelligence tests. Then Dr. Schmidt and her assistants may out a program of training at home and at school, for parents, relatives and teachers.

Today more than 50 schools in the United States have on their staffs teachers trained by Dr. Schmidt in the education of feeble-minded and "problem" children.

She is concentrating her energy on training teachers as rapidly as possible. She emphasizes that they must have a sound foundation in elementary education. To build that foundation, Dr. Schmidt and her three assistants run the clinic as extra work, without pay.

Central American Indians Lost Two Inches in Height

Washington—Mysterious loss of height—nearly two inches in the course of some two centuries—by a group of Indians in Central America was reported here today by a Smithsonian Institution scientist.

The Indians are the descendants of the Maya, who were the most advanced New World tribe before Columbus. Dr. T. Dale Stewart, curator of physical anthropology at the Smithsonian, has measured some 200 Indians of Mayan stock in western Guatemala.

Comparing the modern Indians with skeletal remains of their ancestors, Dr. Stewart found that the modern Maya-speaking peoples are about five centimeters (nearly two inches) shorter.

This strange loss of height cannot be explained on economic factors, the scientist explained, because the modern Maya live as well as their ancestors. Some unfavorable factor, perhaps a loss in the soil of some element needed in traces in the human diet, has become pronounced during the past two centuries and caused the loss in stature, Dr. Stewart suspects.

It is estimated that at least half of the American population uses some form of coin-operated device each week.

Young Song Writer Just Won't Give Up On His Onion Chant

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—Alexander Anagnos is a stubborn young grocery clerk who wants to write the nation's songs.

This is all right with Tin Pan Alley—so long as it doesn't have to share any of the responsibility.

Unlike most of America's 7,000,000 amateur songwriters, Alex doesn't rebuff easily. He's in the midst of a one-man guerilla campaign against the entire music industry.

"On my days off I even carry a sandwichboard along Broadway advertising my songs," he said.

Alex is the son of a Greek who came to this country 43 years ago and opened a grocery store.

Hal Boyle in Greenwich village. It is a friendly store. If a customer has mice in his home, the store will lend him a cat to catch them.

Alex has always dreamed of being a songwriter. When he got out of the army after the war, he decided to give it a try.

He went to one Tin Pan Alley publisher and told him he had written a song about the "new look."

"What do you want me to do about it?" said the crusty publisher.

Alex went to another publisher. He announced he had written a song about Bobo and Winthrop Rockefeller called "Cinderella Wears the Shoe."

"Oh, you did?" snapped the hard heart. "Well, keep it quiet." It was then that Alex declared war. He formed his own song publishing company and his own record firm. The major opus he is pushing at present is called "An Onion and You." It is a tuneful little ditty about a housewife phoning her husband to bring home an onion.

"I got the idea from working in the grocery store," said Alex. "The one thing wives always forget to order is onions."

Plugged In Jukeboxes

He hired a band and a vocalist to record the song. Then he persuaded half a dozen neighborhood ginmills to put the record in their jukeboxes. He also employed a man named Frank to carry a sandwich board plugging "An Onion and You" along Tin Pan Alley—just to let the regular publishers know what they were missing.

"Recently the president of a vegetarian society bought 30 sheet music copies of the song from Frank," said Alex.

Because his advertising budget is low, Alex had to think up an inexpensive way to alert the public.

"I get up at six a. m.," he said, "and put a box of chalk in my pocket. I go around and chalk up the sign, 'An Onion and You,' in the crowded business and shopping areas of the city. Sometimes I sell a friend on the idea of helping me, but most of my friends can't quite figure me out."

The big trouble with his distribution system is that so far the only place people can buy his song is at his father's grocery store.

He has a tie-in deal with his dad. Customers who buy a 50-cent record get a big onion free. If they buy a pound of onions, they get a sheet music copy for nothing.

"The records aren't selling too badly," smiled Alex. "I've already sold almost 300, which covers about 25 percent of my investment."

He grinned as he told of one lady customer who bought a record, paid it for a radio executive she knew—and asked if he

Former Escanaba Couple Enjoys Missionary Work With Zululand Natives

In a letter recently received by Mrs. Henry Reiffers of 122 South 22nd street from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wesley Carlson of the Ingwavuma Mission Station in Zululand, South Africa, an interesting resume of life among the natives in South Africa is depicted.

The Rev. Wesley Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Carlson of Escanaba, Route One, left here three years ago with Mrs. Carlson and daughter Janet to work at the mission station, after completing studies in theology and surgery at North Park college in Chicago.

Since their arrival in the South African mission the Carlsons have aided in establishing schools, churches and hospitals in Zululand. They have two children, Janet, 4, and Paul, 2. When old enough to enroll in school, they will attend an English school 250 miles from their home. They play with the native children, and both have learned the native tongue.

Excerpts from Mrs. Carlson's letter follow:

"South Africa is as different from North Africa and the Congo, as California and Minnesota. If you were to disembark from an ocean liner at historic Capetown, the Union's Parliamentary Capital, you need not fear that wild animals will jump at you. Nearly all of the wild animals of the country are now housed in the Kruger National Game Reserve."

Mountain Scenery
"Instead you might well be surprised at the beautiful scenic background of Table Mountain, with lovely modern buildings in the foreground. These consist of solid looking commercial buildings, handsome shops and countless private dwellings."

"We arrived in Capetown in May, 1946. After spending five days there, we boarded a train for a two and a half day trip to the province of Natal. We visited the beautiful modern city, Durban, a port on the east coast of the Indian ocean, for a few days, and then took a slow branch train, dubbed the Zululand Creeper, for an 18-hour trip 250 miles inland, to a point 34 miles from the mission."

"Undoubtedly you are more interested in country life in South Africa, for city life very nearly resembles life in an American city. We live in a little village called Ingwavuma, in northern Natal in the area called Zululand. We are at an altitude of 2200 feet. The scenery is beautiful with purple mountains in the background and flat bush country below. Malaria-infested country surrounds us, but up here in the mountain we are quite free of the disease.

Much Heathenism

"Our village is the center of a large district of native area. The non-white population of the Union numbers 9,000,000 and in this district there is an estimated population of 70,000 natives. The Union population includes natives or the anti, the Cape-colored or half-caste, and the Indians. There are about 60 white people in this village, most of them employed by the government."

"The white or European population of the Union is over 2,000,000. This may seem surprising, but well-informed people understand that we have not come to the end of the earth. South Africa has a civilization and a very high standard of living among the majority of its white people."

"Do not be mistaken, though, when we make this statement. Heathenism among the native population reigns at every doorstep. Christianity as well as education and European influence is essential in raising the living standards for the natives. Educated natives are rebellious of their status and great racial problems arise, especially where their positions are concerned."

Mud Houses

Houses are bungalows built from cement blocks or, in our case, from corrugated iron. We have comfortable homes, furnished as attractively as possible with the means we have. A cheerful home is truly a haven of rest after a hard day of work and travel among the poor and diseased."

"Food is plentiful as the sub-tropical climate affords delicious fruits and vegetables in abundance. Our yard is full of orange, lemon, tangerine, banana, papaya, mango and avocado trees. We can preserve corn, green beans, tomatoes, pears, guavas, and apples."

"The natives live in grass huts or mud houses with grass roofs. They are large and some are well built. Their main food is corn, from which many dishes are derived. Doctors here say that corn is a big factor in their survival for no other available food is as nourishing. They eat it as corn on the cob when fresh, and when dried, they make 'corn meal mush' with it. It is also pounded and cooked as hominy, or served in bread. During harvest time, the natives enjoy pumpkins, greens, squash, peanuts and beans from their fields."

Deep Satisfaction

"A man's cattle is his wealth here. Occasionally when one is killed, there is a great feast." "Plant life, climate, customs and the people 10,000 miles away from Escanaba are very different, but we do not feel far from home. We can still see Ludington street with its plainly marked stores and can still hear the singing on Sunday in the home church."

"We still love and cherish dear old U. S. A., our friends and loved ones. Yet it is with a deep satisfaction that we can serve God and these black people whom we love."

Clyde Carlson, another son of the Herman Carlsons, will complete studies at North Park college this year, and will leave this fall for Belgium to study French. In preparation for missionary duty in French Africa.

Health Recital May Bore Others

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The middle years of life may make a woman more concerned about her health, but she shouldn't risk alienating her friends by too-frequent discussions of it.

One's physical disorders are seldom ever a subject of conversation of interest to others. As a matter of fact, one of the quickest ways to bore a person is to talk about an ailment, unless, of course, that ailment is so spectacular that it has all the elements of drama needed to hold an audience spellbound.

Even so, a woman can usually find more cheerful subjects with which to spellbind an audience. And she can't avoid talking about her pending operation or her next appointment with her doctor, any woman is clever to treat her illness lightly, even to the point of poking fun at it, if she can.

When one feels too concerned about a threat to health to treat it lightly, one can at least veer the conversation into other channels.

When a woman turns her thoughts away from her ailment, she herself derives a little diversion from a too-absorbing interest in health and can be taking her mind off an ailment lessens much of the physical discomfort it is causing her.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Pedal pushers are the recipients of two fashion honors this spring. They launch a new fabric which chalks up another triumph for versatile rayon. They make a style hit which is as well liked in Paris as in the U. S. A.

The del Mar-designed pedal pusher (right) is the American sportswear choice of Leslie Caron, a sailing enthusiast and the dancing sensation of Paris. She is shown sailing down the Seine wearing red cotton poplin pedal pushers with a boned camisole top and a matching bolero of black birdseye pique.

The pin-checked pedal pusher suit (above) on the American gal who putters with paint owes the crisply tailored look of both trousers and jacket to a new crease-resistant, crumple rayon. This takes a smooth finish, tailors like quality worsted, is budget-priced, feels cool, and is able to stay crisp in wilting heat.

TAILORED VALANCES such as these are smart, easy-to-make frames for windows. For flower-sprigged chintz valance (left), plate serves as guide for outlining half-circle scallops along edge (inset left). Elastic, slipped through pocket along back of valance, is thumb-tacked to narrow wood frame (inset center) to hold fabric taut. Heavier plaid cotton valance with padded edge (right) is nailed to frame.

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

Want to frame your windows for spring with the kind of full-dress valances which decorators use?

You can, and at little expense, says Kay Hardy, author of "How to Make Your Own Draperies."

This expert, who knows all the short cuts, will guide your hand in making straight, tailored valances with a professional-looking padded or scalloped edge. For these, she says, a yard or two of fabric and only the skill of an amateur are needed.

To ensemble a new valance with old draperies, choose a fabric that picks up the color of drapery material. One expert suggests teaming a patterned fabric with solid-color curtains or vice versa.

The board to which finished valance is attached need be nothing more elaborate than a narrow wood frame which a husband-handyman can make. As effective, says Miss Hardy, is a shelf set on bracket supports placed at each side of window frame.

To make valance, measure length and sides of valance board, allowing an extra inch at each end for hems. Proportion your valance width to the height of your windows—wide valances for tall windows, narrow valances for low windows. Cutting a paper pattern to follow when you snip out the fabric is advised. Using the same pattern to cut out a lining from cotton or sateen to give valance more body is also advisable.

To outline even half-circle scallops on fabric, Miss Hardy suggests using a plate as your guide and drawing around the edge with a soft lead pencil.

If you want to finish your valance with a puffy, padded edge, Miss Hardy says to wrap a strip of fabric about five inches wide around a narrow roll of cotton batting. Next, pull the raw edges together evenly and pin between the turned-under edges of valance and valance lining. Now, stitch the four thicknesses of fabric together, and it's ready to hang.

To attach finished valance to the board so that it is taut, you may tack the fabric to the wood. Tack from the center of the board towards the ends, smoothing fabric as you go. Or, if valance is of a light-weight material such as chintz, Miss Hardy recommends using elastic to hold fabric taut by tension. This is done by running elastic band the length of valance in a pocket made by sewing lining to valance in two parallel rows of stitching an inch or so apart. Elastic is then stretched around ends of valance board and thumbtacked down.

Make-Up Tricks
Hide Eye Circles
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The appearance of dark circles under the eyes is frequently a problem of the older woman.

If this under-eye discoloration distresses you, it can be camouflaged with make-up. Naturally you should determine what causes the discoloration—it may be eye-strain, health upset, insomnia.

You can mask out the sooty smudge by blending over the area a light-toned powder foundation which is two or three shades lighter than the other make-up used on your face. After you have applied your regular foundation, take a bit of lighter-toned cream on your fingertips and work over the under-eye area from cheekbone to lower lashes and from inside to outside corner of the eyes.

Use your camouflaging foundation sparingly and blend well into the surrounding skin area so that there won't be any light "goggles" to betray your subterfuge.

Before you worry too much about make-up camouflage, study your eyes in a mirror to make sure whether deepened color circled underneath is a beauty blight. Often a slightly shadowy violet tint under the eyes actually enhances their depth and sparkle.

Clown for a Day

The Big Top has its lure for grown-ups as well as for youngsters. When the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus came to New York, Joe Cunningham, a happy, portly cartoonist, whose ambition in his early days was to be a clown, got the golden chance to don a clown's suit, smear grease paint on his face, and do high-jinks on sawdust for a day. Joe huffed and puffed a lot rehearsing and acting his part, complained of aches after swinging his oversize shoes around, and found that the lot of a clown isn't an easy one. It takes years of preparation, required a lot of talent, and the pay isn't too high—but as Paul Jung, one of Ringling's old timers will tell you, a laugh from the audience at one of your gags will compensate for everything. Joe went back to his cartooning board thrilled and satisfied—but he says now he'll stick to his pen and pencil for years. Here's Joe at the circus.

Wilson C&NW Agent Marks 31st Year There; Once Had Six Brothers Doing Same Work

"If you ask me any more about myself, you'll have enough for a biography as big as Lincoln's," William Brukardt of Wilson said jokingly when a Press reporter called to ask him about his 31 years as station agent for the Chicago and Northwestern railway at Wilson, and his six railroad brothers.

Glancing up to see the short, light complexioned agent assured one that the smile was well placed. In a nook on the wall, beside a small pendulum clock that used Roman numerals to tell the time, and a medium-sized kerosene lamp with a big, shiny reflector, was a clipped lithograph of Lincoln, beneath which small black script identified the picture as that of "A. Lincoln."

Brukardt has been in the railroad business for 46 years. He started as a telegraph operator at W-bik, after he had worked short stints on his father's section crew. Daggett. After that he worked in Felch, for three years; in Narrenta for "a good ten years," at Waucedah, Stephenson, Stager, Beaver, Windy, Daggett, and the north and south "Y" at Escanaba.

First of Seven
It was in 1903 that he started working for the railroad. He attended telegraph school at Janesville, Wis., and then returned to his native Upper Michigan. Getting rights on the railroad and security early convinced him that he would do well to stick to the railroad.

At Wilson he is general freight, passenger and express agent. The first World War was just ending when he started there.

William Brukardt was the first of seven in the Henry Brukardt family to work on the railroad. At one time all seven brothers were station agents for the Chicago and Northwestern. Otto, at Big Suamico, Wis., and William at Wilson, are the only ones still in C&NW stations.

Ernest Brukardt, the oldest, operated the station at Marinette until shortly before he died five years ago. Henry Brukardt operated the Rock station but is now in Milwaukee working in a machine factory. Herman managed the C&NW office at Menominee, but gave it up for a bookkeeping job in L'Anse. Arthur was at the Loretto station for many years but is now a government radio operator in Columbia, Mo. Richard left the Menominee station to work in that city as cashier in the First National Bank, a position which he still holds.

Timber and Horses
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brukardt, parents of the railroading men, live in Menominee. Mr. Brukardt sr., was a section foreman at Daggett for many years, and later became a flagman at the Ogden avenue crossing in Menominee. He retired at 70. Both Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brukardt will observe their 87th birthday in July. Mr. on the 27th and Mrs. on the 2nd. In addition to their seven sons, they have a daughter, Mrs. Martha Crane of Menominee.

Timber, and horses for Kell, were the big shipments on the Northwestern when I first came here," Brukardt says. "Now a lot of smaller timber, berry plants from the Edward Gorzinski nursery and birds from Mrs. Emil Klee are the principal outgoing shipments. Mail order express comprises the bulk of incoming material."

After two or three years more as agent for the C&NW, Brukardt plans to do some traveling. Six days a week from 8:45 to 5:45 doesn't give him a lot of time, but he says he has managed to visit most of the Mid-west on his annual 12 days. He also plans to spend some time gardening on his acres near Wilson.

Knows Many People
When he retires he'll visit around with his children. He has seven . . . Mrs. Roland (Ruth) Bruendemann of Red Granite, Wis., Mrs. Obie (Anna) Carter of Trinidad, Col., Mrs. Alfred

AL HUTTE'S Gas Station

Located at the fork of the roads, between Escanaba and Gladstone on US-2.

TRAIN MESSAGES—Here de-coding messages controlling movement of trains is William Brukardt of Wilson, now in his 31st year as station agent there. One of seven brothers to become railroad clerks, Brukardt has worked for the railroad 46 years, and was the first in the family to do so. His father was a section foreman at Daggett many years.

(Grace) Kemp of Wilson, William of Menominee, who plays the pipe organ around town after regular stints at the paper mill; George, who works in the knitting mills at Marinette; Earl of Menominee, who raises chinchillas on his M-35 farm; and Allen, who is an aircraft mechanic for Pioneer Aviation at Escanaba.

Brukardt was reminiscing about the many operators he has known, and about the men he has seen come and go, when No. 224 started clicking messages about its arrival. He hurriedly deciphered the coding, got out a stack of train orders and some mail.

"In this business, a fellow is often judge, jury, doctor and priest," Brukardt commented. "In the early days, I used to write over half the letters mailed from Wilson. And I guess there isn't a family in miles I don't know."

"Long" Trains
As the train barely slowed for the stop, the agile little man ran out, exchanged envelopes with a couple of trainmen, gave Mrs. Arthur Corriveau, the Wilson "mailman" a lift with her sacks, and then went to "work" the telegraph.

"Both the south-bound No. 224 and the north-bound 121 stop here. Passengers number only two or three a week sometime, then again, they come by half dozens," he remarked. "Many folks take the 400 and the 'Cannonball' now, but there are still quite a few who ride the others."

"Trains are about twice as long as they used to be, and go a lot faster," Brukardt mentioned as he traced the general pattern of his telegraph relay lines from Green Bay to Ishpeming and Powers to Iron River and Watersmeet.

NORLUND FUNERAL
Munising—Final rites will be held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon in the Evangelical Lutheran church, Eben, for Miss Aili Norlund, who died Tuesday in Newberry after an extended illness. The Rev. Frank Pelkkonen, of Marquette, will officiate. Burial will be in Pine Grove cemetery, Chatham.

The body will be taken from Beaulieu's funeral home here to the church at 12:30 Saturday.

NO SECURITY, SAYS BABSON

At 65, We Receive Only Small Pension

By ROGER W. BABSON

New York City—The general idea of compelling us all to allot a portion of our monthly income to help take care of us at 65 is splendid. No one can take exception to this, I, however, do strenuously object to the government calling this social "Security".

First, let us consider how this works. We each have deducted from our pay every week 1% to this is added an equal amount contributed by our employer, which he adds to the cost of the goods we make and is ultimately paid by us. Hence, in the long run all of the money is collected directly or indirectly, from us. All readers should understand this.

Next, where does this money go? It is not invested in a miscellaneous diversified group of safe securities, which would help industry and employment. Rather, the government merely buys its own bonds or gives the fund a credit on its books. This money when invested might be compared to a note which you or I might give to ourselves; or a better illustration, would be the endorsing of our own I. O. U.

What Do We Get?

Briefly, at 65 years of age, if we quit work, we get a small pension from the government. This ranges from $10.00 minimum to $85.00 maximum per month, according to the number of years that we have contributed to the fund and our average wages during said years and whether we are single or married. This means that a single person who has worked 40 years at an average wage of $150.00 during all these 40 years can retire at 65 and get $42.00 per month; or if married, get $63.00 with something for the widow at death. If your wage averages less than $150.00 or if you have worked less than 40 years, you are cut down proportionally.

With the cost of living as high as at present and the purchasing power of the dollar so small, this pension means little to a man and his wife. I, however, do not object so much to the small amount as I object to the label. The Federal Trade Commission should forbid the use of the word "security". This word is fooling 50,000,000 people to think that by making this contribution, they will be secure in their old age. If the government wants to call it a "pension", well and good; but to use the word "security" is absolutely misleading and wrong. If any business corporation should attempt such misrepresentation, it would be haled into the Federal Courts.

No doubt the motive for the Act was good, but the real question is whether the American people would be better or worse off today without it? I honestly believe the nation is worse off today because this legislation is killing the spirit of saving. People are saying "Uncle Sam will take care of me." Hence, they spend their surplus funds on gambling, horse races, liquor and other wasteful expenditures, instead of saving their money as did their parents.

LITTLE BOY, BIG TROUT—Conrad Miller, Jr., of Kalamazoo displays one of the biggest trout catches reported this season. It is a 31-inch rainbow, weighing nine and three-quarters pounds and was hooked by Ray Bakeman of Kalamazoo from the Big Manistee river. He reported using a red and white daredevil lure.—AP photo from Kalamazoo Gazette.

If the Government was promising to pay us in real things such as food, clothing and shelter, these pensions would be O. K. The Government, however, takes our good dollars today and can pay us in bad dollars when we are 65. These may then be worth very little.

The above means that if all the readers of this column should reach 65, July 1, 1949, they would get an average of only $34.50 per month pension. Hence, it is a crime to your family to depend upon this. Instead do these three things:

- (1) Have a small sustenance farm somewhere to which you can go in an emergency.
- (2) Give your children and wife an expert knowledge of some trade or profession.
- (3) Make regular cash savings which can be invested at the right time in a well diversified list of stocks, bonds, and GOOD REAL THINGS.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME—In JAIL.—This, in case you don't recognize it, is a cell in the county jail, Cleveland, O. Its occupant is George Stewart, 39, doing a year as an habitual offender on disorderly conduct charges. The sheriff allowed Stewart, an artist, to decorate his cell as he pleased. So Stewart obtained materials from friends, draped the bars and bed, constructed knick-knack shelves, plastered the walls with photos—and this is the result. In the picture, deputy Joe Uccello grins as he examines a cardboard telephone which Stewart made.

GULLIVER HOME
RAZED BY FIRERobert Rice Residence
Burns Thursday

The Robert Rice residence at Gulliver was destroyed by fire of unknown origin early Thursday morning. All family belongings as well as the house, which adjoins Bob's Bar, were destroyed.

The Manistique fire truck was called to the home at 3:40 a. m. The roof was ablaze and little could be done to control the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice and their four children were at home, and woke up when the house was full of smoke. Rice said yesterday he believed lightning started the fire. The house was covered by a small amount of insurance.

They plan to rebuild this summer.

They Laughed When He Mentioned The Pennant, But Rolfe Winning His Spurs As Tiger Manager

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Red Rolfe is winning his spurs as a successful big league manager at Detroit.

The ex-New York Yankee third baseman who never managed any team, except Yale University, until this spring, has his Tigers in second place, only two games behind the leading Yankees.

Washington, Cincinnati and the Chicago White Sox have been stealing the big black print in the newspapers, but Detroit rates high among the surprise teams of 1949.

They laughed at Rolfe last March in Lakeland (Fla.) when he said he was taking dead aim at the American League pennant.

Everybody nodded politely, grinned and said, "They'll be lucky to beat out the Philadelphia A's to get in the first division."

Benches Vice

Despite a decided weakness at first and second base, Rolfe maneuvered the Tigers into a contending position on the hitting of George Kell, Vic Wertz and Rookie Johnny Groth. Then he plugged the second base hole by acquiring Don Kolloway from the White Sox. Recently he benched

ROBERT "RED" ROLFE
Making Good

George Vico and started playing Paul Campbell at first. It worked. Rolfe set up a pitching "Big Four" of Hal Newhouse (4-2), Virgil Trucks (5-1) Ted Gray (3-1) and Freddie Hutchinson (2-2).

Hutchinson, who turned back Washington with seven hits yesterday, 10-1, is as handy with the bat as he is on the mound. Hutch drove in three runs with a single, double and triple in the attack that hung Loss No. 3 on Rae Scarborough. Not even three hits by first baseman Eddie Robinson could save Washington.

Detroit picked up a full game on the first place Yankees, who were dropped by Cleveland, 3-2, on a terrific slugging display by Larry Doby. The Indians' Negro outfielder smashed a 450-foot homer—said by veteran observers to be the longest ever hit in the Yankee Stadium—as Steve Gromek shaded Bob Porterfield. Doby's blast in the second inning cleared the 20-foot bleacher wall and landed in the seventh row of the center field bleachers. Later he hit a single with the bases loaded in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie.

Brave-Giant Tie

The Philadelphia A's and St. Louis Browns were not scheduled and a National League game between the Phillies and Chicago

Cubs was postponed because of threatening weather at Wrigley Field.

The Boston Braves and New York Giants, tied for first place in the National for an entire week, remain deadlocked. The Braves came up with two in the ninth to top Pittsburgh, 3-2 and the Giants bumped off Cincinnati, 6-2.

Vern Bickford won his own game at Pittsburgh with a ninth-inning single scoring Phil Masi to climax the two-run uprising. Sheldon Jones picked up his fifth victory for the Giants, although nicked for 13 Cincinnati hits. Johnny Mize's homer and a two-run double by Walker Cooper sent Johnny Vander Meer down for his third loss.

Brooklyn, sizzling through the west with three straight victories, moved into a third-place tie with Cincinnati on Preacher Roe's 2-0 shutout of St. Louis. It was the Cards' third loss in a row since returning home.

Stan Musial pocketed a $500 check and accepted the Hillerich memorial award for winning the National League batting title last year. Then he broke out of his slump with three hits in four trips.

Pitching—Freddie Hutchinson, Tigers, held Washington to seven hits and contributed single, double and triple in 10-1 win.

U-M AND MSC MEET

East Lansing, May 20. (P)—For the 98th time in the long history of their rivalry dating back to 1884, Michigan and Michigan State will tangle on the baseball diamond here Saturday.

The Spartans, riding the crest of a 10 win, three lost record, will be straining to make up for a 5-0 defeat inflicted at Ann Arbor earlier this season. The Wolverines have a topheavy edge in the series with a record of 69 wins and 28 losses. The record books also list a 3-3 tie in 1932.

Mutuel play at Hialeah passed the million dollar mark on 26 of 40 days during the recent meeting. Twenty-nine million-plus days were scored in 1948.

Marquette Blanks Esky Nine, 5 to 0

Marquette, May 20.—Greeting Pitcher Gilbert Prevost with three consecutive bingles at the outset of the game, the Marquette Redmen went on to punch across three runs in the first inning and two in the sixth to hand the Escanaba Eskymos a 5-0 shutout here yesterday afternoon. Both nines played fine defensive ball throughout.

Marquette's ace moundman, Nelson, had a no-hitter with two out in the seventh and last inning until Joe Friedgen, Eskymo first sacker, spoiled it with a somewhat fluky liner down the third base line that went afoot and then rolled back in to hit the third base bag.

With men on first and second, Ray Ossen having walked, the Eskymo scoring threat died, however, when Nelson whiffed Pinch-hitter Dick Johnson for the third out.

Marquette's runs were all earned. Parent, Redman and Aarila, first three men up for Marquette, each singled and scored. Van Cleave singled, Leskes walked and they came in on Clement's single in the sixth. Prevost gave up six hits in all. He buckled down to pitch good ball after the opening onslaught.

Prevost was struck on his right (pitching) arm by a drive whiffing on the players' bench, and the extent of the injury had not been determined today.

Columbus Edges St. Paul Saints

(By The Associated Press)

The wind and the rain got into almost everybody's hair in the American Association last night, washing out two games and halting the second game of a double-header after Columbus edged out pace-setting St. Paul, 2 to 1 in the opener.

In the only other game played, third place Minneapolis tripped Louisville 4 to 1, and tumbled the Colonels into the Association cellar.

Bad weather stopped Milwaukee at Toledo and Kansas City at Indianapolis.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS "It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Leo Knauf, manager of the Bark River baseball team, which is having trouble getting away to defense of its championship in the Tri-County league, has a new reason to tear his hair and gnash his teeth a bit.

In case you haven't been following the fortunes of the 1948 Tri-County champions in their 1949 debut, the Barks lost a 3-1 game to an upstart Stephenson club that came over from the Cleveland circuit and last Sunday they were bumped unceremoniously by Felch, 5-0.

Ben Kleiman has been doing a dependable job on the mound. The support hasn't been too bad, but the Barks haven't been hitting and there's a hole at third base—which, you'll grant, is a miserable place to have a hole.

Knauf was banking on Ben's brother, Harold, to fill that gap as soon as school is out at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. He's performed there well in years gone by.

Comes word now that Harold, an all-around athletic star at Ferris, won't be back this summer to occupy third base for the Barks. He has decided to attend summer school so that he can be graduated at the end of summer and be eligible for a teaching job for the fall semester.

A commendable move on Harold's part, but a little rough on Manager Knauf and Barks chances of repeating as champions. In addition to filling third base like it should be filled, Harold carried a big, heavy stick with him every time he went to bat, and he knew what to do with it—mainly, connect!

"But we're going to start connecting," Knauf avows. "And I look for young Walter Flath to do a good job at third. I like the way he handles himself. He covers that ball like a chicken after a June bug. He'll do okeh—and so will we!"

Escanaba Grade School Track Meet Tomorrow

Representing their respective schools in the first Escanaba grade school track and field meet held here in many years, approximately 100 girls and boys of Franklin Barr, Webster, Washington and Jefferson will compete for honors at the high school athletic field tomorrow, beginning at 9:30.

Contestants have been practicing for three weeks in preparation for this big day. Elimination contests were held last Saturday to determine first, second and their place winners, who are eligible for the finals tomorrow.

Points will be on a 5-3-1 basis, and a big trophy will go to the school team compiling the most points. Individual ribbons will go to winners of the first three places and nearly everyone competing will receive an achievement award. Contestants are asked to wear their school colors, and bathing suits or gym trunks may be worn in the actual competition.

Dick Pryal and Jerome Deloria will score the meet, and Francis Papineau and Lyle McCann will be the timers. Those directing the girls events will be Carol Kane, Donna Mae Gallagher, Bernice Finn, Patsy Blizell, Nancy Larson and several others.

The meet is sponsored by the Escanaba public schools and recreation department under the direction of Arthur Peterson of the recreation department.

Coach Cook, who has been training the boys since April 1, said yesterday that Donald Lancour is a potential 11-foot pole vaulter. Quick, who is entered in several of the divisions, placed sixth in the U. P. finals last year, while a freshman. This year he placed first in the mile run at Manistique and Sault Ste. Marie.

The group will make the trip by bus, leaving at 6:10 a. m., Saturday.

Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Bobby Locke Tie At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, May 20 (AP)—A husky young movie actor on a golfing vacation matched strokes with the best in the pitch-and-putt business today as a definite threat to win the $15,000 Philadelphia Inquirer tournament.

Joe Kirkwood, Jr., in the movies he enacts Joe Palooka—shared the first round lead with Bobby Locke, the South African who is currently the hottest thing in professional golf. Each posted a four-under-par 68 yesterday.

Strung out behind them with cards ranging up to the high 80's was a field of 122 that included most of the sport's big names. Additional 18-hole rounds are scheduled today, tomorrow and Sunday over the 6670-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

In addition to Kirkwood and Locke, 10 others bettered the course's 72 par. Eight had par and a total of 28 were within five shots of the leaders. Most of the experts agreed it looked like a scramble all the way to the finish.

Despite his links ability, Kirkwood said "I prefer the movies. It's easier there, and much more profitable."

The 27-year-old six footer, son of a famous golfing father, has crunched up in several recent tournaments to challenge the stars. His father, Joe Kirkwood, Sr., travelled the world giving exhibitions of trick golf shots. Curiously enough, young Joe acknowledged today, "Dad never gave me a lesson."

"I didn't start playing golf until about 10 years ago," said Joe. Kirkwood's round yesterday would be a credit to any teacher. His booming drives were nudging the 300-yard mark most of the day, and his approaches and putts were deadly accurate.

Locke, the methodical South African started the 17th hole five shots better than par. But an off-line drive held him to par five on the 17th and a pair of shots that stopped in sand traps cost him a one-over five on the final hole.

Purdue Nine Hopes To Extend Its Lead Against Wisconsin

Chicago, May 20 (AP)—Barring midwestern downpours, Purdue's pace-setting baseball team hoped today to extend its lead in the Big Nine championship race with a weekend series at Madison against Wisconsin.

The Boilermakers who have won five games and lost one, are a full game ahead of Indiana and Iowa, who are deadlocked in second place with five triumphs each and three defeats.

Indiana's Hoosiers, who split with Illinois (5-4) last week, will attempt to better their position in two games with Northwestern (2-6) at Evanston, Iowa, the only team to score a victory over Purdue, was at Minneapolis for a series with Minnesota (4-3).

Illinois (5-4) defending co-champion, took on last place Ohio State (1-5) in the final Big Nine set of the weekend.

Michigan departed from conference play to meet Western Michigan today and Michigan State tomorrow.

MORE IMMORTALS

Cooperstown, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—They're going to make more room for baseball immortals in the game's hall of fame here. Work will begin shortly on a three-story addition that will nearly double the size of the building; in which 58 diamond greats already are enshrined.

Chicago, May 20 (AP)—Grains generally headed lower on the board of trade today. The May wheat contract dropped a couple of cents and the easiness in this delivery had an unsettling influence on the rest of the market.

Dealings were quite active in wheat, particularly in the May delivery, which is a large open interest in this month with only today and tomorrow left for evening up transactions. After that, open contracts must be settled by delivery of the actual grain.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 7 1/2 cents lower, May $2.20 Corn was 1/4-1/2 lower, May $1.33 1/2, and oats were unchanged to 1/2 lower, May 60 1/2, soybeans were one to 1 1/2 cents lower, May $2.36 1/2.

Possible For Third Place In Big 9 To Go To Rose Bowl

Evanston, Ill., May 20 (AP)—The Big Nine marked time today on Michigan State's membership bid after voting itself into the Rose Bowl game for the next two years.

The conference last night discarded a waiver clause in its five-year pact with the Pacific Coast conference which provided for an outside representative from the East in the Bowl classic for 1950 and 1951.

The action was entirely expected and was undertaken at this time to avoid complications next fall when two conference teams—defending champion Michigan and Rose Bowl champion Northwestern—will be ineligible for repeat trips to the Bowl games.

The conference now is on record to send even a possible third place finisher next football season to the Rose Bowl. That would occur if Michigan and Northwestern wound up in the first two places.

Olympic Athletes In Coliseum Relays

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—Listed at least one Olympic games star in every open event, the ninth annual Coliseum relays go on tonight before a crowd expected to top 30,000.

Hurdler Harrison Dillard has a lame back and may not compete. Pell-Mel Patton of Southern California previously announced he would not run the 100 and would race only as anchor man for the speedy Trojan sprint relay team.

The hurdles still list such fine boys as Craig Dixon of UCLA, Horace Smith of Michigan State, Gay Bryan of Stanford and others.

The sprints present Lloyd LaBeach, the roving Panamanian, against Lorenzo Wright of Wayne University and others.

Michigan State is favored in the two-mile relay.

13 Starting Spots Left in 500-Miler

Indianapolis, May 20 (AP)—There'll be a premium on neck-risping at the Indianapolis motor speedway this week-end.

Thirteen starting spots are left for the Memorial Day 500-mile race. Forty-four entries—all but eight of them on the grounds—are left to scramble for the remainder.

Time trials tomorrow and Sunday shape up as a driving match between a dozen big car veterans and six or seven youngsters from the hot rod and Midget circuits. One more chance to fill a vacancy, or bump a slower-qualifying car, will be given May 28.

Four drivers already qualified at less than 126 miles an hour may not be able to stick. They are Doc Williams, Wyandotte, Mich.; Bill Cantrell, Louisville; Henry Banks, Compton, Calif., and Ralph Pratt, Detroit.

Secretary Will Protect Reich From Soviets

ceived the committee's full bipartisan support.

The Acheson statement was a stern and—diplomats said—a realistic appraisal of the situation with which he will be confronted at Paris when he sits down with the Soviet Foreign Minister Vishki, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

Powers Hold Advantage

Repeatedly Acheson emphasized his conviction that the primary concern of the United States now must be to stand firmly on its policies "for a world of peace and security" and not be swayed by Russian maneuvers or the possibilities of success in the cold war.

He said that he did not know whether the Paris conference would succeed in producing "workable and effective agreements" between the western powers and the Soviet Union on Germany.

He thought perhaps the opportunity for success would be better in Paris than in the 1947 meeting at Moscow and London. But he added that if failure is to be the result of the Paris session the west can take it.

"We most certainly are now in a better position to deal with the consequences of a failure," he said.

Behind this estimate stood his belief that in the past two years the growing strength and unity of the western powers has given them a stronger hand in world affairs at the same time that Russia's position has become relatively weaker.

Tips from the Insect Wire Screening Bureau advise householders who are repairing or replacing worn screens to use only copper tacks to fasten bronze screens to wood frames, and only steel or aluminum tacks to fasten aluminum screening. Chemical reactions of one metal on another will cause damaging corrosion if iron or steel tacks are used with bronze; or copper tacks with aluminum.

One survey shows that there are about 1,500,000 machines vending peanuts and other bulk products in the U. S.

Rita Hayworth Will Wed Prince May 27

Cannes, France, (AP)—Rita Hayworth has set May 27 for her wedding to the Moslem Prince Aly Kahn.

Other details about the ceremony which will unite the Hollywood glamor queen to the son of one of the world's richest men—the Aga Kahn—were well-kept secrets.

Under French law a civic official in the region where the wedding takes place must officiate. In this case the official would probably be the mayor of the town where Aly Khan's palatial Chateau L'Horizon is situated. And he is Communist, Paul Derigon—whose civilian job is accountant in a pottery factory.

The mayor's office said Derigon had not been asked to perform the wedding and no application had been made for a license. Normally 15 days advance notice is required, but this may be reduced to eight days.

STORM CRASH FATAL

Corunna, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Abel Morel, 74, was killed yesterday when his car collided during a heavy rainstorm with an Am Arbor railroad freight train. The accident occurred at a crossing near downtown Corunna.

Legislature Will Stop Clocks To Adjourn Tonight

to get early agreement of the House and Senate on their compromise and get the bill on its way to the governor today.

The compromise would create a special mediation panel to settle public utility and hospital disputes consisting of three "public" members named by the governor and two non-voting members representing labor and management. The Senate had voted for a panel of three "public" members only, while the House had insisted the three-man panel represent labor, management and the public.

Conferees on a disputed game bill agreed to another compromise. Under it the State Conservation Department would be authorized to allow special deer hunting seasons south of the Bay City-Muskegon line to control deer damage to crops, the department would have discretion to order a pheasant hunting season of any length between Oct. 5 and Nov. 5 and the deer season would start Nov. 15, instead of the nearest Saturday to Nov. 15 as the House wanted.

A conference committee on the controversial bill abolishing the one-man grand jury bill, expected to be a hot bone of contention, was not named in the House until today. This issue is regarded as a source of delays for later today.

The House had its desks cleared for the budget debates, but in the Senate decisions still must be made on increased unemployment compensation benefits, repeal of the secret primary law and a series of bills changing tax deadlines.

Successful Author Of Mister Roberts Drowns in Bathtub

New York, May 20 (AP)—An autopsy report was awaited today in the death of Thomas Hegg, 29, war-veteran author of the best-seller, "Mr. Roberts," which he helped convert into the Broadway smash hit.

Hegg was found drowned yesterday in a half-filled bathtub in his apartment. A nearly empty bottle of sleeping pills was on a washstand.

Dr. Leopold Bellak, a Manhattan psychiatrist, said Hegg had been receiving treatments from him for some time.

The doctor said he could not divulge details of Hegg's case, except to say the author had been mentally depressed. He said he had prescribed sleeping pills for insomnia.

"His condition had improved recently," Dr. Bellak said. "The indications are his death was an accident."

Hegg reportedly drew more than $4,000 a week from the play, "Mr. Roberts," which stars Henry Fonda. The play still is drawing packed houses after 65 weeks on Broadway.

Rita Hayworth Will Wed Prince May 27

Cannes, France, (AP)—Rita Hayworth has set May 27 for her wedding to the Moslem Prince Aly Kahn.

Other details about the ceremony which will unite the Hollywood glamor queen to the son of one of the world's richest men—the Aga Kahn—were well-kept secrets.

Under French law a civic official in the region where the wedding takes place must officiate. In this case the official would probably be the mayor of the town where Aly Khan's palatial Chateau L'Horizon is situated. And he is Communist, Paul Derigon—whose civilian job is accountant in a pottery factory.

The mayor's office said Derigon had not been asked to perform the wedding and no application had been made for a license. Normally 15 days advance notice is required, but this may be reduced to eight days.

Prosecution Rests On Red Conspiracy Trial in New York

New York, May 20 (AP)—The prosecution completed its case in the Communist conspiracy trial yesterday and Federal Judge Harold R. Medina indicated strongly he would over-ride the usual defense motions for dismissal today.

"I am wholly at a loss to see what arguments could be presented by the defense," Judge Medina told defense attorneys. "The evidence submitted by the government is of such character there seems to be very little room for discussion. I don't see how I could fail to submit this case to the jury."

Defense counsel, caught by surprise late yesterday when the government rested its case against eleven top U. S. Communist leaders, aimed new attacks on the conspiracy indictment today.

The defendants—who compose the party's American "Politburo"—are charged with conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence. The trial has been under way for 18 weeks.

Los Angeles, May 20 (AP)—"They are worth more than money," says Mrs. John B. Jones of her Siamese twin daughters. "I have no intention of making them public exhibits."

She referred to an inquiry from an Atlantic City, N. J., amusement pier.

The 35-year-old Negro mother of nine other children, five still living, went home from the hospital yesterday after naming the twins Mary Yvette and Gladys Yvonne. She hopes to return to her job as presser in a garment factory. She is estranged from her husband, a cafe
